To Our Dahlia Friends and Customers

Greetings:

We take great pleasure in presenting to you our 1937 list of Dahlias, which contains some of the newer originations, also standard varieties that have proven there merit.

Although the past season was a very trying one, we heartily recommend these as they gave satisfaction under the most trying season we have had for years.

May we advise you to make your selections early as several numbers of the stock are limited.

Please do not lay this little list aside, look through it closely for we are sure you will be interested in some of our offerings for this seasons garden.

We want to thank our many customers and friends for your nice letters telling of your success with stock obtained from us and we deeply appreciate them, and hoping to receive a liberal share of your 1937 business, we remain

Sincerely Yours

Whites Dahlia Gardens

Our Own Introduction For 1937

KENTUCKY SPORTSMAN—Informal Decorative with outerpetals curling backward, giving depth and an artistic touch. Color base of petals and new-growth petals gold, grading to apricot-yellow and then to distinct orange ending with pure white tips; blooms 8" to 10" diameter and 5" to 7" in depth, and has fine 'keeping' qualities on bush or as a cut flower; stems of the best, holding blooms facing to upward. Plant grows low and very vigorous with plenty of healthy insect resisting foliage.

Was greatly admired the past season; and commands your attention because of its three distinct colors and unusual artistic formation. A free bloomer and one that you can depend on to give strenuous competition in the showroom.

Named on two Honor Rolls; Winner of the American Home Achievement Medal; also Award of Honor, Dahlia Society of Georgia.

Plants Only $7.50

KENTUCKY GEM. (Minature) F. D.—Color-Rose lavender with yellow suffusion.. The blooms average 1½" in diameter and are held on long graceful stems which are well suited for arrangement. Plant is medium in height and of exceptional vigorous growth. One of the particular interest is the foliage in that the leaves are unusually deeply indented which gives them a lacy appearance.

A very free bloomer; bushes covered from early in season to killing frost Winner in stiff competition past season.

Received and Award of Honor; Dahlia Society of Georgia, '36.

Outstanding 1937 Introductions

Mad River Chief, I. D.—(Mad River Gardens) Without a doubt the finest dark red we saw this past season. It is as close to perfect as you can expect to have and one of the pleasing shades to be desired.

Color—a very rich carmine red with a darker center. Perfect long stems, some of them being 48" long with all flowers facing or on top. Originators description says that it also grows in water and a long keeper.

One of the Reds that is popular with the ladies as well as the men.

Our "Champion" Introduction In 1936, Kentucky Sun

KENTUCKY SUN, F. D.—Bright clear golden yellow without a trace of shading. The huge blooms are carried well up out of the bush on long fine stems facing you at a graceful angle, which do not Fade, Burn or show Water markings after a heavy dew.

It has an abundance of substance, more than most of the large yellows and a wonderful keeper when cut.

Bush is a medium grower attaining a height of 5 feet high, a vigorous, clean plant with attractive heavy insect resisting foliage and a free bloomer.

Field grown stock can be grown to 10 and 11 inches with depth of 6 to 7 inches without the use of fertilizer.

Was awarded the American Home Achievement Medal at the Dahlia Society of Kentucky Show, the Courier-Journal—Louisville Times silver cup, for the best Kentucky origination, and Gold Ribbon award for the best undessiminated seedling, also on three Honor Rolls.

'We predicted a great future for this grand formal yellow and from the reports coming in it is the champion of this class. Its winnings are so numerous we cannot begin to enumerate them, but to date it has no peer.

KENTUCKY MIDNIGHT I. D.—Something new in color, and immense dark maroon in fact so dark you will have to examine very closely to keep from pronouncing it a black shade.

No color chart shows this shade so we will have to call it a blackish maroon. The huge blooms are held up out of the bush on long fine stems. And attractive growing clean looking insect resisting plant.

KENTUCKY SNOWBALL, Ball Type.—The perfect pure white ball dahlia that has so long, been badly needed.

Perfect in color and a wonderful long stem. Blooms held erect that show no trace of fade or burn throughout the blooming season and very desirable to the commercial grower.

The plant grows about 3 feet high and to see it growing reminds you of a miniature Snowball bush and a very free bloomer.

A consistent winner in the show room and one that you will want.

JOIN THE AMERICAN DAHLIA SOCIETY

We invite our friends and customers to join the American Dahlia Society and become a part of this great National organization whose interest is devoted solely to the improvement of the Dahlia.

The Quarterly Bulletin—a real Dahlia Magazine—gives all the up to date Dahlia news, information about, and illustrations of new varieties, the latest cultural hints and is a real worth while guide to any lover of Dahlias. The Bulletin alone is worth many times the cost of the annual dues.

Trial Gardens are maintained at Connecticut College, Storrs, Connecticut, and The Michigan Agricultural College, East Lansing, Michigan, where new varieties are tested and scored each year. A test garden is also maintained at Cornell University, Ithaca, New York, for research work on insect and disease control. Full reports from all these gardens are published from time to time.

Dahlia “fans” in every state of the Union and many foreign countries are members and frequently contribute news to the Bulletin. Membership includes admission, and the privilege of exhibiting at all our National exhibitions which are held each September in some National center.
